Dear Mr. Abramonte:

Thank you for contacting me regarding the above-identified patent applications.

Your introductory letter crossed in the mail with a certified letter sent to Mr. David Lee on April 2, 2002, a copy of which is enclosed. Please tell Mr. Lee that I have already received your introductory letter.

Please contact me as soon as possible after you have completed your evaluation of the issues regarding these patent applications.

Notices to File Missing Parts have already been received in both applications.

The Notice for "Method and Apparatus for Remote Initiation of Arinc 615 Downloads" requires the filing of an executed Declaration within two months of April 3, 2002. As you know, the two month periods can be extended, but only for a limited period of time before the applications become abandoned, and government fees increase sharply as longer extension periods are requested.

Frank Abramonte, Esq.

I have enclosed Declaration and Power of Attorney for each application for Mr. Lee to execute and return to us. The signatures of the other inventors have already been obtained and are not required.

In the unlikely event that you disagree, please at least have your client execute and return the Declarations and Powers of Attorney (or let us know why he is refusing to do so) so that Boeing's rights in these matters are not prejudiced.

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. Cassel:

Thank you for your patience while we evaluated the inventorship issues regarding the above inventions.

Based on our review of the pending patent applications and our discussions with David Lee, we believe that the inventorship as stated in the declarations is incorrect. The declarations appear to mistakenly include three individuals (Roger Brinkley, Timothy Mitchell and Jerry Price) who did not contribute to the claimed subject matter, and appear to mistakenly omit one individual (William Holst) whom we believe to be a joint inventor with Mr. Lee. Thus, Mr. Lee cannot execute the declarations you forwarded in accordance with 18 USC § 1001; 35 USC §§ 25,115; and 37 CFR §§ 1.63, 1.64 and 1.68. If you believe Mr. Brinkley, Mr. Mitchell and/or Mr. Price are inventors, please identify the claimed subject matter which they contributed.

We would be happy to discuss any additional information you may have regarding inventorship of the above inventions at your convenience.

Very truly yours,

SEED Intellectual Property Law Group PLLC

June 25, 2002

Mr. Frank Abramonte
SEED Intellectual Property Law Group, PLLC
701 Fifth Avenue, Suite 6300
Seattle, Washington 98104-7002

Dear Mr. Abramonte:

As you are aware, Boeing recently filed two U.S. patent applications ("Boeing Applications"). Mr. Lee was given the opportunity to review these applications with the other Boeing inventors, and did so without signing the accompanying formal papers. We now enclose them for your review and for your client's further review in the hope that it will put to rest the inventorship issues that you have raised. The applications are confidential and should be treated accordingly. We are confident that the claims are directed to subject matter jointly invented by Mr. Lee and the other Boeing inventors.

There are essentially two issues: 1) whether Mr. Lee should/will sign as a joint inventor on the Boeing Applications;

Regarding the first issue, because Boeing is confident that Mr. Lee is a joint inventor on the applications, it has correctly identified him in the applications as such. By this letter, we are requesting that Mr. Lee execute the attached declaration as a joint inventor, which is consistent with our repeated requests to date. If he refuses to do so, Boeing will execute its rights under the Patent statute, 35 U.S.C 116, and move forward without Mr. Lee as an inventor refusing to sign. You are reminded that under the "Assigned Personnel Agreement," Paragraph (g), Mr. Lee is required to execute papers necessary to perfect Boeing's patent rights.

The enclosed Boeing Applications should alleviate your concerns that Boeing is trying to cover subject matter not owned by Boeing that was invented by Mr. Lee and Mr. Holst.

We have received no documentation to indicate that your client conceived and reduced to practice prior to August 2000 an invention relating to either uploading and downloading data transmitted via a radio link between an aircraft and another device or the automatic configuration performed on the aircraft to make data transfer possible or for that matter the mechanical switch. If you believe otherwise please be so kind as to provide such information.

in its entirety.

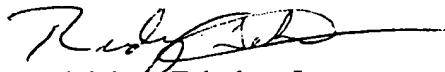

See MPEP 409.03(d):

"Proof that a bona fide attempt was made to present a copy of the application papers (specification, including claims, drawings, and oath or declaration) to the nonsigning inventor for signature, but the inventor refused to accept delivery of the papers or expressly stated that the application papers should not be sent, may be sufficient. When there is an express oral refusal, that fact along with the time and place of the refusal must be stated in the statement of facts. When there is an express written refusal, a copy of the document evidencing that refusal must be made part of the statement of facts. The document may be redacted to remove material not related to the inventor's reasons for refusal."

The submission of Mr. Lee's declaration in both of Boeing's U.S. Patent Applications are already overdue and in an extension period, so damages are accumulating and these matters should be considered promptly.

Rudolph A. Telscher, Jr.

Dear Mr. Telscher:

This letter is in response to your letter of July 29, 2000, and our telephone conference of August 8, 2002.

As stated in our previous letters, we believe that the inventorship stated in the declarations forwarded by Mr. Cassel is incorrect based on our review of the pending patent applications and our discussions with David Lee and William Holst. The declarations appear to incorrectly include three individuals (Roger Brinkley, Timothy Mitchell and Jerry Price) who did not contribute to the claimed subject matter, and mistakenly omit one individual (William Holst) who is a joint inventor with Mr. Lee of the claimed subject matter.

We note that Mr. Lee is a named inventor on the applications, and thus he is entitled to an explanation of the inventorship, and is in fact legally required to understand and agree with such before executing the associated declarations. Thus, we again request that you please identify the claimed subject matter which you contend was conceived by Mr. Brinkley, Mr. Mitchell and/or Mr. Price, and provide an explanation for the omission of Mr. Holst

In accordance with 18 USC § 1001; 35 USC §§ 25,115; and 37 CFR §§ 1.63, 1.54 and 1.68, Mr. Lee cannot execute the declarations you forwarded until a satisfactory explanation of inventorship is received.

Very truly yours,

SEED Intellectual Property Law Group PLLC
